

2016 Rosé Pinot Nero

Vinous 88 pts – Ian d'Agata

Lively bright pink. Subtle aromas of tarragon, mint and fresh fennel complicate red cherry aromas and flavors. Moderately concentrated, chunky and slightly sweet, with nicely integrated acidity but I find this has little character in the middle palate. Fairly fresh and vinous and exhibiting an aromatic note on the medium-long finish.

2016 Ribona Le Grane

James Suckling 91 pts

Some handy complexity and impeccable freshness here. This has a chalky, slightly flinty edge with flavors of green apples and smooth green melon. Good concentration. Drink now.

Vinous 90 pts – Ian d'Agata

Golden-tinged yellow. A whiff of sulfur blows off to show underlying musky aromas of pear and herbs. Then similar flavors are complicated by notes of ripe apricot and balsamic oils. The finish is long and suave. This has almost always been Boccadigabbia's best wine in recent years.

Wine Spectator 89-91 pts

There's a zesty, mineral-tinged underpinning to the creamy flavors of Asian pear, poached apricot, fresh herb and lemon pastry cream in this fresh and balanced, light- to medium-bodied white. Drink now through 2021.

Effusive fresh-lemon and lemon-blossom aromas make this a very attractive, creamy white with plenty of citrus fruit at the finish. Drink now for the freshness.

Wine Spectator 88 pts – Alison Napjus

Easy-drinking and medium-bodied, showing light, chewy tannins framing dark and brambly flavors of blackberry, woody spice and dried fig, with a touch of licorice. Drink now through 2021.

This medium-bodied red is round and chewy, with a light herbal overtone to the subtle flavors of black currant, anise and loamy earth. Drink now.

Extremely lively and intense with sliced lemons and apples. Intense acidity, too. Medium to full body and an intense finish. Mineral and chalk undertones. A fascinating white. Drink now.
